Scan Requirements

Scan taken of the un-prepared tooth during the consultation to be crowned and then uploaded to <https://rhodium.com/scans/>

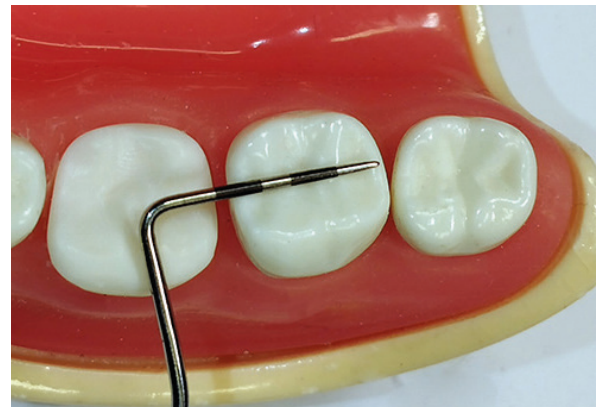

We also have MeditLink, our lab name is Rhodium Labs.

If you don't have a scanner, you can take a digital image of the tooth to be restored. The digital image needs to be taken perpendicular to the occlusal surface and must have a scaled measurement instrument near the tooth.

A periodontal probe, a ruler, or even an OVC Selector key are all suitable. If you are not using an intra-oral camera, you might need to use a mirror.

See examples of suitable images below.
